Pavillion, Wy* -- When Josh Fox was approached by a company wishing to drill for natural gas on his property, he began an investigation into the environmental and social repercussions of the process. In region after region across the country, he documented evidence of serious pollution and contamination caused by drilling methods that have been exempted from federal regulations. His investigation in Wyoming’s impacted areas resulted in an up front and personal interviews with Pavillion residents, who farm in the Pavillion area. John Fenton, his family and neighbors have been severely impacted by EnCana’s Pavillion/Muddy Ridge gas field. “Josh Fox and his film “Gasland” have brought worldwide attention to the disastrous results of oil and gas exploration.” John Fenton says, “He also reminds us that we can make a difference! Fighting for the protection of our health, water and air is one of the most important struggles of our time.”
